

COVID-19 and the environment: global interactions

Opening remarks:

Manel Vila i Motlló, Director-General of Development Cooperation, Government of Catalonia

Moderator:

Cristina Monge, Political scientist, executive advisor at ECODES (Ecology and Development Foundation) and sociology professor at University of Zaragoza

Speakers:

Carmen Aliaga, Anthropologist, researcher at the Bolivian Collective for the Coordination of Socio-Environmental Actions (Colectivo CASA) and member of the Latin-American network of women defenders of social and environmental rights

Susana Borràs, International public law professor and coordinator of the environmental law master at Universitat Rovira i Virgili. Researcher at the Tarragona Centre for Environmental Law Studies

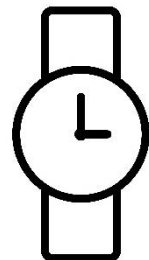

Andrew Prag, Senior Advisor at the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Environment Directorate

Megan Rowling, Climate correspondent and editor with the Thomson Reuters Foundation

Organised by:

Generalitat de Catalunya

Tuesday 8 June 2021 via Zoom

5 pm – 6:30 pm (Barcelona)

1 pm – 2:30 pm (Buenos Aires)

11 am – 12:30 pm (New York)

REGISTER AT: bit.ly/covidMediAmbient

Webinar with simultaneous interpretation: English/Spanish

